Compose your perfect Music City getaway at SoundWaves at Gaylord Opryland—the nation’s first truly upscale indoor/outdoor resort water attraction.

An octave above the rest

Fusing water and music with thrill rides and relaxing indulgences, guests of SoundWaves can expect an experience unique to Nashville. Music is an integral part of this experience—from water attractions that play music to a giant screen with music programming at the outdoor wave pool.

A modern design, sleek finishes and rides intertwined with living walls and plant beds create an upscale ambiance. Much like the temperature controlled indoor gardens at the resort, SoundWaves will be kept at 84 degrees indoors year-round. In addition, its unique roof will allow guests to sunbathe indoors.
